

Taking the ePortfolio agenda forwards in the UK

*John Mc Cann
Senior Transforming Government Advisor*

ePortfolio

- principles of review, reflection, recording and planning as a key mechanism to support self-learning and career management
- e ePortfolios offer the opportunity of a tool for the lifelong learner that is portable and is centred on the learner

State of play

Large number of initiatives underway Mainly institution or sector centred Changing learner environment

Issue to be addressed

Only Connect

Only Connect

Awareness raising Demand pull Interoperability

Threats

Not learner centred
No marketplace credibility
No portability

Opportunities

Greater learner fulfillment
Increased skill level Improved UK competitiveness

ePortfolios offer the opportunity of a tool for the lifelong learner that is portable and is centred on the learner

